Importance of Medicaid-enrolled eligible Tribal Members

Medicaid can pay for members' healthcare services

- IHS & 638 clinics generate funds by billing for these services and can save PRC dollars

Medicaid members with care coordination referrals generate FMAP savings

Only Medicaid members can become eligible for waiver services – ASD, HCBS, IID/DD

How Tribal care providers can help enroll eligible members

AI/AN Medicaid and CHIP Protections

Certain types of Indian payments and resources are not counted when determining Medicaid or CHIP eligibility.

- Per capita payments from a tribe that come from natural resources, usage rights, leases, or royalties
- Payments from natural resources, farming, ranching, fishing, leases, or profits from Indian trust land (including reservations and former reservations)
- Money from selling things that have tribal cultural significance, such as Indian jewelry or beadwork n Certain types of Indian trust income and resources are exempt from Medicaid estate recovery rules. (Medicaid estate recovery only applies to those age 55 and older who receive long term care services, such as nursing home care.)
- NOTE: Per capita income from Indian gaming is not excluded from your income calculation. It will be counted toward Medicaid eligibility and should be reported on your application for coverage
