Fargo (WDAY TV) - Six Fargo businesses failed alcohol compliance checks that were conducted by Fargo Cass Public Health and the Fargo Police Department on December 21st and 22nd.

41 businesses were checked and six failed. Those that failed are Doolittles Woodfire Grill, Fargo Cork, Labby's Grill & Bar, Red Lobster, The Toasted Frog and Windbreak Saloon.

Fargo Cass Public Health says establishments failing for the first time in a one-year period are automatically placed on probation for a year and assessed an administrative penalty of $500. The penalty may be waived, however, if the server and management have current Server Training certification. If they fail again within a year, they are automatically assessed a $750 penalty.
