

Social Determinants of Health (SDOH)

Conducted Summer 2021

Your health is determined in great part by social factors as where you were born, as well as where you now live, learn, work, play, and worship. These factors are called "social determinants of health."

Marketing & Business Unlimited, Inc. (MABU) conducted ten (10) focus group sessions (both virtual and in person) with a goal of 6-12 participants on the following groups and an online survey to gather an even more broad sample of North Dakota residents.
