Welcome and Check-In

NDHPCAB's facilitator, Carsen Beckwith, provided an overview of the agenda, a recap of the previous meeting, and an interactive check-in activity. This activity allowed board members to reconnect, share any concerns following the first meeting, and clear up any confusion related to the role of the board.

Progress and Community Engagement Opportunities

Alicia talked about the upcoming forum being planned in Dickinson and asked for interested members to contact her. This is a project with Tara Zettel, a board member herself. Kara Gloe and Heidi Selzler-Echola introduced themselves and discussed their work with Canopy. The talked about the peer support program.

Community Ambassador Role and Election Discussion

Facilitators discussed the process for electing a formal ambassador, and asked for members to consider putting themselves forward for this position. Jason shared what he did in his role and assured everyone that he would support them if they choose to be an ambassador and that there would be a transition period. Formal elections will be held at the next meeting.

Material and Feedback Review

The NDDoH discussed materials for review and provided information about why the board's feedback would be useful.

Live Scheduling and Closeout

Board reviewed upcoming opportunities, such as an upcoming in-person meeting in Bismarck with Jason Grueneich and Alicia Belay.

Open Office Hours: Carsen and Jason G stayed on to review materials and have open discussion with anyone.
