BEHAVIORAL HEALTH REHABILITATIVE SERVICES

Behavioral Health Rehabilitative Services is a range of services including assessments, intervention, counseling, and skill introduction/improvement. Services are recommended by a physician or other licensed practitioner of the healing arts within their scope of practice according to state law for maximum reduction of physical or mental disability and restoration of a member to their best possible functional level. Behavioral health rehabilitative services are designed to be provided on a short-term basis and in most cases, should not be considered a pattern of long-term care.

COVERED SERVICES

Behavioral health rehabilitative services include behavioral intervention services that consist of developing and implementing a regimen that will reduce, modify, or eliminate undesirable behaviors and/or introducing new methods to induce alternative positive behaviors and management including improving life skills. ND Medicaid members who receive behavioral health rehabilitative services should display measurable progress in these areas through the development, implementation, and evaluation of a plan of care (more information on the plan of care is below). Specific services are outlined in the table below.

Therapy and/or treatment that involves the participation of a family member/collateral and/or other non-Medicaid eligible individual(s) is for the direct benefit of the member, in accordance with the member's needs and treatment goals identified in the member's treatment plan and for assisting the member's recovery. The general expectation is that the member would be present for the service with the non-member; however, there may be some treatment session(s) where the practitioner's judgment is not to include the member.

Service Name	Definition of Services	Billing Code
Skills Restoration	Skills restoration is a time-limited service that assists an individual with restoring needed and desired skills such as daily living/independent living skills to improve the functional impairments affected by the individual's behavioral health diagnoses and symptoms to meet rehabilitation goals. Skills restoration is a systematic series of instructional activities, which include a mixture of education, confirmation, and demonstration of learned skills and capacity for observed learning over time to ensure lasting results that translate to the living environment. Skills restoration interventions used should be based on evidence-based practice. Skills restoration is considered an individual service and if provided in a group setting, must be billed with the appropriate modifiers. Services are limited to four hours per day and must be within each practitioner's scope of practice in accordance with licensure and certification. If additional services are medically necessary, the provider may request service authorization from the North Dakota Medicaid Program.	H2014*
Skills Integration	A service designed to support an individual in the community in their efforts to apply and integrate those life skills that have been learned in their therapy programs. The individual typically requires support for cueing/modeling of appropriate behavioral and life skills to maximize their skills and prevent need for higher levels of care. The service reduces disability and restores an individual to previous functional levels by assisting the individual in ongoing utilization and application of learned skills in normalized living situations. This strengthens the skill development that has occurred and promotes skill integration in various life roles. Services are limited to four hours per day and must be within each practitioner's scope of practice in accordance with licensure and certification. If additional services are medically necessary, the provider may request service authorization from the North Dakota Medicaid Program. Skills integration is considered an individual service and if provided in a group setting, must be billed with the appropriate modifiers.	H2017*
